

DJ TRACKMASTER

AUTHENTIC HOUSE MUSIC. INSPIRED BY CHICAGO. POWERED BY HOUSE.

01 ARTIST PROFILE

Born and raised in Chicago during the rise of house music in the 1980s, DJ Trackmaster brings a firsthand connection to its origins and decades of musical experience to the turntables. Specializing in Deep, Soulful, Afro and Classic Chicago House, he programs each set with a discerning ear, a feel for the room and an understanding of how rhythm, atmosphere and emotion move a dance floor.

02 MUSICAL ROOTS

As a child, DJ Trackmaster spent time helping at George's Music Room, the influential Chicago record store where his mother worked, founded by George Daniels. By age eight, he was learning to recognize records from customers' hummed melodies and remembered lyrics. He later contributed to collaborative house recording and production sessions during the genre's early years.

DJ Trackmaster trained with a professional DJ performing throughout Michigan, gaining experience with college events and private celebrations. He later created flyers, secured venues and promoted his own college parties, building audiences and selling cassette mixes. He also performed in Chicago lounges and continued mixing privately after leaving regular public gigs in the late 1990s.

03 THE SOUND

Growing up with the records and cassette mixes of Frankie Knuckles, Farley "Jackmaster" Funk, Steve "Silk" Hurley and Fast Eddie, DJ Trackmaster embraced a defining principle of Chicago house: a DJ does more than play records—he creates atmosphere, stirs emotion and guides a room through sound.

DJ Trackmaster brings that philosophy to Deep, Soulful and Afro House, choosing each record for the feeling it creates and where it takes the listener next. An inviting opening can deepen into a hypnotic groove before the energy rises and finds its release. Every selection has a purpose. The result is an immersive musical journey that draws audiences beyond hearing the music and into experiencing it.

DJ TRACKMASTER

THE MUSIC. THE ROOTS. THE RADIO.

04 ART OF THE BLENDS

DJ Trackmaster turns transitions into moments worth hearing. As one record's bassline runs beneath another's percussion or melody, an unexpected groove takes shape—something neither track contains alone. He calls it the "third piece of music." Instead of hiding the blend, DJ Trackmaster lets listeners discover its shifting layers, drawing them into the details and emotion of the music as the set moves forward.
